S. W. Chestnut of Gordon was in town Friday on some land business.

Did you try the Norfolk Bakery Bread at Farnham & Dikeman's?

S. S. Beekeley of Kennedy was a pleasant caller at this office Saturday.

J. B. Finney, of Ainsworth, was in town the first of the week on business.

A car load of Michigan apples at Farnham & Dikeman's. Better call.

C. M. Sageser has been assisting clerk Daniels in his court work this week.

B. F. Carter was attending court from Gordon this week, on the Gallop-Finney case.

Wm. Ferdon and W. G. Comstock were in town from Chadron the last of the week.

The editor of the Nordon Borealis made an ass of himself the week before election.

If you are looking for a good square meal at a reasonable price, call at the Estabrook house.

H. E. Dewey was in town from Woodlake the last of the week and assisted in canvassing the election returns.

To Cure a Cold in One Day.

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. The genuine has L. B. Q. on each tablet.

C. H. Thompson went to Aurora Sunday morning to attend the sitting of the Great Council, Imp. O. R. M. From there he went to Omaha for a short visit.

The M. W. A. of Crookston will give a dance and supper in their hall on Thanksgiving night, Nov. 24. Everybody cordially invited. By order of Committee.

Rene Canet sold twenty-five or thirty head of cattle at the stock yards last Saturday. Bob Bruce of Woodlake was auctioneer; and we are told good prices were received for the stock.

Fur coats at T. C. Hornby's.

J. W. Green has moved to town from the Table to secure school advantages, and is living in the Ferguson property.

J. C. Tolliver was elected prosecuting attorney of Brown county over E. I. Davison, by one lonely little vote which was probably his own.

Attorney W. W. Wood of Rushville, L. K. Alder and A. W. Scattergood of Ainsworth and Jas Morris of Johnson, attended court this week.

Representative elect John Shore was in town this week receiving congratulations from his friends. He has sold his ranch and will move to town.

Capt. A. G. Fisher came down from Chadron Tuesday to look after some court business and receive congratulations upon his election to the state legislature.

Carrie Good, of Butka, Rock county, a relative of the editor, was in town Sunday to consult Dr. Seymour in regard to the trouble she has been having with her eyes.

Henry Young of Rosebud reservation, was in town this week and acted as interpreter in the Tate liquor case. Mr. Young is one of the prominent stockmen north of Cody and is a valued patron of this paper's stock brand department.

John Tucker made his first appearance as an attorney in the Tate case Tuesday, on the side of the defense. J. Wesley was on the other side, and some sharp exchanges of sarcasm passed between the two, but John did not get worsted.

M. B. Trussell brought in the election returns from Pleasant Hill and made a number of new friends while in town. He is postmaster at Compton, and very seldom comes to Valentine, but he is a very pleasant gentleman just the same.

G. H. Folsom, one of Merriman's most prominent stock men, was in town last Saturday, and gave us a pleasant call. Mr. Folsom is one of the most genial men we have met, and his chat was enjoyed immensely. He recently shipped a few car of stock to Sioux City and sold at $3.85.

I. B. Nichols, of Elk precinct was in town the first of the week on business with the county treasurer, and took occasion to make the editor's heart glad and his purse fat. The Elk people all seem to be splendid folks, and Nichols is right with them.

Married, at Lincoln on Nov. 10, John Gillespie Maher and Ruby Wilhelmna Stuckey. The groom is well known throughout the northwest as a splendid gentleman, a thorough scholar and an all around good fellow. The bride is a very pretty and accomplished young lady, well known in Lincoln. The happy couple will be at home in Chadron after December 10.

Chas F. Suesser, of the Charles F. Suesser Piano, Organ and Sewing Machine Co., Crawford, Neb. is in town this week tuning and selling instruments, and will remain three or four weeks at the Donohoe. He comes well recommended, and will make this territory every four months in the future. His charges are very reasonable, only $10.00 per year for keeping a piano in good condition. Mail orders receive prompt attention.

Educational Notes

By Prof. R. H. WATSON

Nine new pupils have entered school this week.

The ninth grade had aside grammar and physiology and took up composition and physics; geography last week.

Miss Towne and Miss Stark both did themselves credit by the manner in which they handled the topics assigned them for our last teachers' meeting.

Miss Isis Lincoln came in from her school twenty miles out in the country last Saturday to attend teacher's meeting. She gave a very interesting class drill in orthoepy.

Frank Thorn and Mrs. Gee, of Crookston, attended the teacher's meeting in Valentine last Saturday.

Arrangements have been made whereby Mr. Morgareidge may continue his work in the county superintendent's office till January 1, and Miss Brown continue her work in the high school till that time. This seems to be a very satisfactory arrangement all around.

Beginning with our December meeting the teachers of the Valentine Association will begin the study of Dr. McMurry's famous book, "The Method of the Recitation." Every teacher belonging to this association should send to the "Public School Publishing Co.," Bloomington, Illinois, at once for a copy and study carefully the first three chapters before our next meeting. Price of book postpaid is eighty eight cents.

Dr. C. R. Jackson has in his dental parlors over Hornby's store one of the finest operating chairs we have ever seen. It is an hydraulic, quadruple action, nickel plated and up-to-date arrangement which will make a man forget the horrible sensations which usually overcome him when he visits a tooth carpenter's shop, and cause him to marvel at the ingenuity of the man who invented it. Dr. Jackson is already working up a nice little practice in his profession, and is making friends by the score. We are glad of this for many reasons: First, he is a nice young man; second, he is a good dentist; third, we believe in assisting a new enterprise when the field is not crowded. Dr. Jackson comes here well recommended, both by faculty of the Indiana Dental College and the people for whom he has worked for the past two or three years, and if any of our readers are bothered with aching molars or have been "gumming it" when they visited the dinner table we advise them to call on him and mend their ways.
